

FARAH MOHAMED SAID is a partner in the Communications & Multimedia, Corporate Liability & Risk Management and Legal Forensic Investigation & Compliance practice groups. She is a Barrister-at-Law of Gray's Inn and holds a Bachelor of Laws (Hons) degree from University College London. She was admitted as an Advocate & Solicitor of the High Court of Malaya in 1998.

Farah principally advises on corporate and commercial advisory matters, and has extensive experience advising on corporate transactions within the background of the Malaysian legal and regulatory framework in general, and corporate laws in particular. Her expertise spans a broad range of economic sectors including telecommunications, healthcare, oil & gas, energy & utilities, manufacturing, tourism, education and agriculture.

Farah's experience further encompasses construction and infrastructure laws, having considerably advised in the review, drafting and negotiations of project documentation across various industries. She is also familiar with the energy sector, and has been involved in projects relating to the design, construction, commissioning, operations and maintenance of coal-fired power plants in Malaysia and Indonesia, gas district cooling plants as well as various solar photovoltaic generating facilities across Malaysia. Her experience in the Communications & Multimedia practice group includes advising on e-commerce and data protection laws as well as the drafting of Information and Communications Technology related contracts.

Farah was also attached to the derivatives arm of Bursa Malaysia Berhad for 3 years as an in-house legal advisor.

Tel 603-6209 8247
Fax 603-6209 8221
E-mail farah@zulrafique.com.my